

How to convince Medicronis' CEO to buy

Use this in the room. The commercial proposal is the leave-behind. This document is your script: what to say, what not to say, and how to handle objections given cheap labour and an existing 70k software bill.

1. The one sentence

"You already pay ~PKR 70,000 a month for a system that still needs someone to turn distributor PDFs into text files. We remove that bottleneck. We do not replace your field-force app."

2. Their numbers (use these, not Silicon Valley ROI)

Fact	Figure	How to use it
SSR clerk	~PKR 40,000 / month	Do NOT claim we pay back in 6 months on salary. Labour is cheap. Sell speed, accuracy, and scale.
Existing software	~PKR 70,000 / month	Anchor: our monthly is ~half of a bill they already accept — for the part that tool leaves manual.
Their pain	Text-file SSR upload	This is why they came. Repeat it. Demo PDF → SSR, not a generic dashboard.
Distributor PDFs	~45 layouts	Off-the-shelf tools will not eat their PDFs. Custom extraction is the product.

3. What we are asking (say this number)

Ask	Say it like this
PKR 400,000 go-live	Founding-customer setup: map their distributors, harden login/roles, go live, train.
2 months free care	Honour the promise. No monthly invoice in months 1–2 after go-live.
PKR 45,000 / month from month 3	Hosting + keeping PDF formats working. 12 paid months at founding rate.

Floor if they negotiate (do not volunteer): PKR 250,000 setup + 2 months free + PKR 40,000/month from month 3 with 12 paid months. Do not go below that. Never drop setup and monthly together. Never give free formats forever.

4. 10-minute meeting flow

- Show the win (2 min). Their PDF → extract → match → SSR download. "This morning's file, not a mock."
- Name the gap (1 min). Current software = field force. Mitrixs = PDF ingestion. Keep both.
- Honest unfinished (1 min). Login/roles and production hardening are in go-live. Do not pretend the demo is the finished contract.
- Investment slide (2 min). 400k + 2 months free + 45k from month 3. Year-1 ~850–940k.
- Risk (1 min). Wrong secondary sales → wrong targets and stock. Cheap typing errors are expensive decisions.
- Ask (1 min). "Sign the proposal this week. 50% kick-off, 50% go-live."
- Silence. Let the CEO talk. Do not discount unprompted.

5. Objection handling

If the CEO says	You say
"40k staff is cheap — why pay you?"	Agree. We are not priced against one salary. We are priced against month-end delay, wrong figures, and the next 10 distributors without a second hire.
"We already pay 70k for reporting."	That product still needs text files. We are the missing input layer. Keep their mobile app.
"1 lakh / 2 lakh setup only."	Cut scope (fewer distributors at go-live, Phase 2 reports later) — do not cut reliability. Floor is 250k + monthly lock.

If the CEO says	You say
"No monthly fee."	PDF layouts change. Monthly is format survival. Offer 6–12 months prepaid; do not do free forever support after 2 complimentary months.
"You have no other clients."	True. That is why this is founding pricing. Standard package for the next company will be higher. Medicronis locks this rate for 12 paid months.
"Give us the source / we will maintain it."	Then there is no one to keep 45 PDF formats alive. Care plan is the product after go-live.
"Match the 70k system all-in."	Refuse. We are not building GPS/field force. Different job, different price.

6. Words that help vs words that hurt

Say	Avoid
Specialist layer next to your current software	"We replace your ERP / your 70k vendor"
Review queue — not blind automation	"Fully automatic, zero human"
Founding price for a live reference	"We're cheap because we're new"
Job changes from typing to review	"We will fire / replace your 40k person"
Payback is quality + time-to-SSR	"ROI in 3 months on salary alone" (they will not believe it)

7. Decision you want in the room

Best: signed proposal, 50% kick-off. Acceptable: verbal yes + written confirmation within 7 days. Weak: "send a cheaper option" with no term — reply with scope cut, not a naked discount. Walk away: setup under PKR 250,000 plus two free months plus no 12-month care commitment.

After they sign: treat Medicronis as the reference. Next clients: quote higher (e.g. PKR 0.8–1.2M setup).
